EMSC Staff

The key to success at the Eastern Mass Soccer Clinic is the quality of its coaching staff. Our staff is passionate about the game of soccer and about working with kids. In addition to the staff members listed below, the staff has included current college players from Amherst, Bowdoin, Columbia, Dartmouth, Duke, Michigan, Tufts, and Williams.

Meghan Cleary - Meghan is a former captain of varsity soccer and lacrosse at Williams College. She currently teaches history and coaches varsity girls' soccer at the Noble and Greenough School.

John Dorsey - John captained the men's team at Wesleyan University and currently serves as a coach at Nobles. John, the parent of two young children ages 9 and 7, oversees our half-day program.

Bridget Dullea - A former captain at Trinity College, Bridget successfully coached the Nobles girls soccer team to an ISL Championship in 2007. Bridget is working on a Masters in Educational Counseling and serves as an excellent coach for our advanced players.

Katie Gayman - A former two-time captain at Dartmouth, Katie is now the head girls' soccer coach at Buckingham Browne and Nichols School.

John Grayson - John brings a little international flair to EMSC. A former semi-professional player in England, John has coached MAPLE, Town and ODP teams throughout the area. He has an NSCAA Advanced Diploma and Goalkeeping Diploma.

Aileen Keenan - Aileen is a former captain at Williams College where she was a 1st Team All-American. She was also an Academic All-American. Currently she teaches math and coaches soccer at the Portsmouth Abbey School in Rhode Island.

Program Philosophy

The Eastern Mass Soccer Clinic was founded in 1982 by legendary high school soccer coaches Don Brock (Needham High School) and Peter Loiter (Wellesley High School). Throughout its 28 years, EMSC has maintained the same commitment to excellence.

EMSC focuses on individual and team development. Each day, campers go through a series of skill stations designed to help push them to improve as an individual player. In addition, campers are placed on teams in order to teach the fundamentals of working within a team and understanding what it means to be a member of a team. Each day includes individual training, small and large sided games, team building competitions and soccer related games.

Our staff is comprised of some of the finest coaches in the area. All of our coaches are passionate about two things: the game of soccer and working with kids. The staff works with players on an individual basis with the goal of developing soccer skills, confidence and a greater understanding of the game and team dynamics.

EMSC Director

Steve Ginsberg

Steve Ginsberg is in his 11th year as the Director of EMSC. He has been involved with soccer, as a player and a coach, in the Greater Boston area for over twenty years. Ginsberg is currently the boys' varsity coach at the Noble and Greenough School in Dedham. During his ten years as the coach of the boys' and girls' varsity teams, he has a combined record of 113-29-21. His teams have won four Independent School League Titles and a New England Class A Championship. Ginsberg has also coached the men's teams at Hobart College and the Northfield Mount Hermon School.

A Needham native and former captain at Needham High School, Ginsberg went on to play four years at Williams College, where he served as a captain in 1994. During his time at Williams, the Ephs advanced to the NCAA National Championship game and were ranked number one in the country.

Ginsberg holds an Advanced National Diploma from the National Soccer Coaches of America and a Masters in Sports Management from the University of Massachusetts - Amherst.
