Summer Soccer Team Clinics

Preseason training for high school teams.

The Team Clinic brings high school programs together for three days to train and compete in order to hone their skills, develop tactical chemistry, elevate their fitness, and become a bonded group prior to the start of the high school season.

Each team is assigned an accomplished area high school or college coach that trains them throughout the experience.

The Team Clinic has propelled Massachusetts programs to achieve championship seasons as well as help young players arrive at tryouts prepared for success.
